NEW ERA IN DIPLOMACY IS SEEN

Conference Between Herriot And Macdonald May Aid Both Nations

By LUTHER HUSTON
For International News Service.

LONDON, June 21.—The conference between Premier Macdonald and Premier Herriot of France, this week-end, was hailed as inaugurating a new era in European diplomacy. Both are Socialists and both have been consistent enemies of "secret diplomacy and secret agreements."

It is generally expected that the conference will sound the death knell of the old Poincare policy towards Germany and will re-establish Anglo-French accord on a real and firmer basis.

May Discuss Plan

The conference is expected to deal almost wholly with ways and means for putting the Dawes reparations plan into execution as soon as possible.

It was also anticipated the premiers would discuss the summoning of an inter-allied conference.

France Asks U. S. to Recognize Soviet

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The French government has moved to take up with the United States the question of the recognition of soviet Russia, it was learned here today.

Edouard Herriot, the new French premier, has sent a note to Secretary of State Hughes, through the French embassy here, asking the opinion of this government on the advisability of entering into diplomatic relations with Russia.

The note reached the embassy this morning.

France Is Anxious

France, according to reports in diplomatic circles here, is anxious to recognize the Moscow government, but wants to sound out Secretary Hughes before going ahead.

Whether any questions were taken up in Premier Herriot's note could not be learned in advance of the transmission of the document to the state department.

It is the first formal communication that has reached Washington from Paris since the Herriot ministry took charge of the government.

U. S. Is Opposed

The United States, during the Wilson, Harding and Coolidge administrations, has consistently opposed the recognition of soviet Russia, the attitude of this government being that diplomatic relations cannot be established so long as the soviet will give no guarantees for the protection of American property and other rights.

No change in this position is expected as a result of the French representations.

For her marriage Miss Biegert wore a cocoa net over orchid silk. Her bouquet was bride's roses and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Clara Biegert, as maid of honor. Dorothy Spears was the little flower girl.

Earl Spears served as best man.

After a trip to Lake Arrowhead Mr. and Mrs. Spears will reside in Gardena, where Mr. Spears is in business.

Denies Nomination Of McAdoo Stopped By Any Opposition

NEW YORK, June 21.—Vigorous exception was taken today by David L. Rockwell, manager of William G. McAdoo's candidacy to reports that the nomination of McAdoo has been "stopped" by the coalition of anti-McAdoo forces.

"We are going into this convention with more delegates than any candidate in Democratic history," said Rockwell. "What do you mean stopped?

"If there's any stopping to be done we will do some of it ourselves."

SUSPECTS ADMIT LIST OF CRIMES

Arrest of Four Breaks Up Gang of Thieves, Say Police Officials

With the arrest and confession of four members of a gang of automobile accessory thieves, the Glendale police department believes it has broken up one of the most troublesome crime groups in the county.

The arrests took place last night and confessions were obtained this morning by Police Chief John D. Fraser. Each of the four men is held on $1000 bail. Preliminary hearings will be held 10 o'clock Monday morning, June 23, before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court. Two of the prisoners are from Glendale and two from Burbank. Their names are:

Norman Rhea, Burbank; Arthur Armstrong, 324 Santa Anita avenue, Burbank; Charles W. Hilton, corner of Lake and Laurel streets, Glendale, and George R. Wilson, 235 South Verdugo road, Glendale.

Ex-Police Officer

Rhea, believed to be the gang-leader, is much older than the others, whose ages range around 18 years. Rhea is an ex-police officer, discharged from the Los Angeles police department.

Among the crimes they confessed are robbery of the Auto Wrecking company, 18 North San Fernando road, when $300 worth of accessories was stolen, and robbery of the Glendale Lumber company, 314 North San Fernando road, on April 1, when $50 worth of loot was taken.

Indian Port Reached After Flight From Bangkok; Cover 11,000 Miles

RANGOON, India, June 21.—The United States army round-the-world aviators, who arrived late Friday from Bangkok, overhauled their motors today and prepared for the next leg of their 30,000-mile journey.

The Americans have completed more than one-third of their globe circling flight, having traveled approximately 11,000 miles since leaving Los Angeles on March 17. They hope to complete the first half of their journey with the next week if the weather permits flying.

Bad weather prevailed here during the night. Later it cleared. The three American air pilots plan to leave tomorrow for Bassein, en route for Akyab.

Flight Commander A. Stuart Maclaren of the British naval air force, who is attempting a round-the-world flight, but who has been held up at Akyab by a broken machine, sent word he hoped to arrive in Rangoon this evening to greet the Americans.

SUSPECT ADMITS DEPUTY'S MURDER

ROME, June 21.—One of the prisoners arrested in connection with the kidnaping and killing of socialist Deputy Giacomo Matteotti has confessed the murder, declaring it had been ordered by Signor Rosal, a former member of the Mussolini government; Giovanni Marinilli, a former member of the fascist directory, and by Filippe Fillippelli, former editor of the Corriere D'Italiana, the most influential fascist newspaper in Rome, according to an announcement by police today.

THIRD JAPANESE IS FOUND SLAIN

Mangled Corpse Heightens Murder Mystery That Baffles Police

LOS ANGELES, June 21. — Baffled by the finding of the slashed bodies of two Japanese near Fort MacArthur, police here faced another mystery today when the body of a third Japanese, horribly mangled, was discovered beneath a bridge near Pasadena.

Every bone of the body of the Japanese found today was broken and the face had been mutilated in a fashion similar to the attack made upon the two men discovered near Fort MacArthur.

A rigid investigation was launched by the authorities in connection with the possibility that the three deaths might be linked with anti-Japanese outbreaks in Los Angeles and vicinity.

Threats Reported

Reports were received by the officers today that numerous Japanese colonies in the vicinity had been given threats that their members must leave this section at once.

At first the authorities believed the third Japanese had committed suicide by leaping from the high bridge under which his mangled corpse was found, but later they said they were convinced he had been murdered and his body brought to the bridge to give the impression he had committed suicide.

The man was well dressed. A watch and $26 were found in the pockets of his clothes.

LINES DRAWN IN CONTEST OF VOTES

McAdoo and Smith Organize Battalions of Death In Gotham Fight

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 21.—William G. McAdoo and Governor Al Smith, the two leading contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination, appeared today to be killing each other off with a neatness and dispatch that brought joy to the supporters of every dark horse in the Democratic stable.

The fighting between these two rival camps has become so intense that today—three full days before the opening of the convention, found odds being freely offered about the hotel lobbies that neither man will be able to command the two-thirds necessary to choice.

Battalion of Death

In the Smith camp there has been formed within the last few days "a battalion of death" sufficiently powerful to stand out indefinitely against McAdoo's nomination. Its ranks cannot be broken, according to its leaders. The center squad of this battalion is New York, with 90 votes as solid as Coogan's bluff. The right flank is commanded by George E. Brennan, the grinning "boss" of Illinois; the left wing is under the control of Joseph M. Guffey of Pennsylvania. They have counted noses and are satisfied with the total.

Not to be outdone, the McAdoo camp, according to its leaders, also has formed its little "battalion of death," the sole purpose of which is to prevent the nomination of the New York governor. Its component parts are Texas, sufficient states from west of Georgia, Florida, California and the Mississippi to prevent Smith from ever attaining the 732 votes required.

If their lines hold—and leaders in both camps assure inquirers that they will hold—the door is left wide open for the galloping dark horse.

SEEK PARENTS OF ABANDONED BABY

Child of Three Weeks Left At Verdugo Woodlands Home by Woman

"Baby Butter," a tiny boy just 3 weeks old today, would very much like to find his mamma and papa. He was left last Sunday with Miss Agnes Godman at 1754 Woodland Lane, Verdugo Woodlands, by a woman who left $5 as a deposit for his board and keep for a few days.

Saying that she would return with some baby clothes, the woman disappeared and that was the last seen of her. The city health department has been notified and will have to turn the baby over to the juvenile police department of Los Angeles county, unless his mother or some friend or relative is located. The juvenile police department in turn will hand the baby over to the county Home Finding department.

Baby Butler, as the little piece of adhesive tape on his back named him, weighs six pounds and six ounces. He was born May 31, the piece of tape said. Anyone who knows anything about this case is requested by the health department to notify the police department.

PEKING, June 21.—The Japanese legation today lodged a protest with the Chinese foreign office over the signature at Washington by Dr. Sze, Chinese ambassador, of the Federal Wireless company bonds.

Coolidge to Receive Report On Cleveland Meet and Discuss Campaign

WASHINGTON, June 21.—William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National committee, about whom has revolved all the factional fighting in the Republican party since the Cleveland convention, arrived here today for a conference with President Coolidge.

Not only will the president receive from Butler a report on the convention, but tentative plans will be gone over for the campaign.

Slemp to Return

Shortly after Butler's arrival in Washington, the White House announced that no serious difficulties existed between the president and his secretary, C. Bascom Slemp, and that the latter would return here early next week from Cincinnati.

Slemp is understood to have been in communication with the White House during the past few days, with the result that he has agreed to a truce between himself and Butler.

Sizzling Hot Wave Ends In Midwest; Damage to Farm Properties

BULLETIN

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 21.—Twenty-six persons are dead, one dying and more than $3,000,000 property damage done today as a result of a combination of heat waves, cloud-bursts and tornadoes that struck the Mississippi and Ohio valley and adjacent states and finally swept eastward into northern and central New York state. Additional reports will, it is believed, increase the list of dead and injured.

FARGO, N. D., June 21.—Nine persons were killed and more than fifty others injured in the tornado and terrific rainstorm which swept the Missouri river section near here, according to belated reports reaching this city today. Property damage is estimated to be more than a million dollars.

C. C. Engdahl, Bismarck farmer, lost his life when a gully in which he had sought shelter from the wind, was filled with water and he drowned.

$2,000,000 Damage by Freak Storms, Estimate

CHICAGO, June 21.—Five deaths and property loss totalling more than $2,000,000 today was the toll of the freak storms which quenched the sizzling heat wave.

The storms which focused in the Great Lakes region resulted from the meeting of two climatic extremes, an unusually severe hot wave from the southwest and an unusually cold wave from the northwest.

Texas, Oklahoma and other southwestern states had sweltered under 80 to 110 degrees for a week. At the same time, low temperatures ruled in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio.

FINDS BUSINESS IS GAINING HERE

Realtor Reports Practically All Recent Sales to Local Buyers

According to a statement made this morning by the Ripley-Jacke Real Estate company of 617 South Brand boulevard, the general real estate business in Glendale is showing a very pronounced under-current of activity as registered by the actual transactions made by them since moving into their present location.

They state that of their last $100,000 worth of business, with the exception of one house sale, the purchasers have been residents of either Hollywood or Glendale. Mr. Ripley says that anyone making a fine analysis of the situation will find that developments now under way in Glendale and Los Angeles show Glendale real estate offers the most attractive investment in the market with an added speculative feature.

Are Here to Stay

"A few people have taken the time and trouble during the past week to come in and inquire if business were not moving very slowly, but our answer has always been, 'We are too busy with our own business to take valuable time in discussing pessimism with the pessimist.' When the next ninety days have passed people will realize that now would have been the ideal time to make investments and speculations."

The members of the Ripley-Jacke company say that they are in the business here to stay and are backing up this assertion by buying some of the same property that they are recommending to the investing public. Mr. Ripley asserts that people who read the newspapers can find some of the best bargains in Glendale real estate ever offered, with terms that are right, and makes the emphatic statement: "Glendale offers more today in the way of real estate investments than any city of its size in the United States, and we stand ready to show anyone interested."

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Kiefer and Eyerick, undertakers, to whose parlors the body has been removed.

Despondency owing to ill health is the cause attributed for the act. The deceased was 38 years old, and leaves a husband, C. Neil Smallwood, of Norwich, Conn.; a son, George E. Newland of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Ada G. Huston of the above address, Elizabeth M. Adams of Glendale and a father, John C. Walker of Santa Ana. CLUB PRESIDENT CALLS MEET OF ADVISORY BOARD

Newly Elected President In Council With Leaders Of Departments

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, called her advisory council to meet yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse.

The advisory council is composed of members of the executive board, committee chairmen and curators of departments, and over fifty were in attendance at the meeting, which occupied the greater part of the afternoon.

Club administration was discussed in detail and plans tentatively formulated for the coming year.

Approve Schedule

Following the recent vote by the club body to return to the bi-monthly meeting schedule, the advisory council gave a majority vote in favor of this action.

The regular club meetings with programs will be held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Through Mrs. Charles H. Temple, curator of the Bible department, Miss Winifred Rouzee, Bible student and lecturer, will lecture the first and third Tuesday afternoons and the meetings will be open to the public. On the fifth Tuesday afternoons an informal social affair will be held with the various committees and departments serving as hostesses.

To Greet Members

Mrs. Montgomery is stressing friendship and cordiality and is urging every club officer and member to be a member of the reception committee to greet every other officer and member.

No definite decision was reached yesterday in the matter of paid instructors for the various departments. This matter is to be taken up by the board.

Following the council meeting Mrs. Montgomery was hostess, presiding over the refreshment table.

NEW DOG KENNELS IN CITY PLANNED

At a meeting of officers and directors of the Glendale Humane society, held last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 150 South Brand boulevard, plans were laid for acquiring a lot and building a group of up-to-date dog kennels, to supplant the present city pound. President Edwin F. Kulp presided over the meeting.

This action follows the visit to Alhambra with members of the City Council on Tuesday of this week, to inspect a similar system in operation there by the Humane society.

The following building committee was named: J. W. Murphy, Mrs. Dwight Stephenson and Mrs. F. S. Card. The following lot committee was named: Alexander Mitchell and A. G. Hamm.

There will be another meeting of officers and directors of the Glendale Humane society next Friday night, June 27, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

DINNER IS GIVEN BY BROTHERHOOD

H. B. Allen Talks on Music; Event Is Held at First Methodist Church

"Musical Waves" was the subject of the address given last night by H. B. Allen, chautauqua lecturer, at the Brotherhood meeting at the First Methodist church.

There were 100 persons in attendance at the dinner and address following. During the dinner hour music was furnished by the church orchestra, directed by Miss Genevieve Mulligan. A quartet composed of Misses Grace and Juanita Claycomb and Messrs. Ulom and Jones, accompanied by Miss Erma Lucas, gave two numbers.

Robert E. Rose, president, presided over a short business hour, and later introduced Mr. Allen.

During his talk Mr. Allen said "Music stirs the mind and heart and brings out the good or bad in them. Instill into your boys and girls, your men and women, the love of good music and you need not fear for their morals. Crime and good music do not go together."

MORE REDUCTION IN POWER URGED

Glendale Not Cutting Down Consumption as Needed, Says Official

To date only 5 per cent of the requisite 25 per cent cut in electric consumption has been effective in Glendale, reports Peter Diederich, superintendent of the city light and water department. For the past two weeks the average daily consumption has been 33,000 kilowatts.

This must be reduced to approximately 25,000 kilowatts per day, in order to avert disaster, Mr. Diederich states, otherwise the Southern California Edison company will "pull the switch" on Glendale and the city will be without electricity until the beginning of the next month, as every city in the southland is on a strict allotment basis.

Outlines Reductions

Attention is called by Mr. Diederich to a statement issued by A. V. Guillou, acting power supervisor of the state railroad commission, which outlines the following reductions in the use of electricity, effective at once, for the protection of crops and payrolls:

1 Consumers should make full use of any other power available to them, thereby reducing their use of electricity. It is suggested that this also be applied to electrical cooking or heating and to toasters, percolators and like appliances in the home.

2 All sign and decorative lighting should be eliminated and store window lighting reduced to a minimum.

3 Street and other outdoor lighting, as around oil service stations, etc., should be reduced to the requirements of safety.

4 Other forms of lighting, including residence lighting, should be reduced as much as conditions permit. The use of lights during the daytime should be eliminated wherever possible.

5 Industrial power consumption should be reduced 25 per cent, such reduction to be made between the hours of 6 a. m. and 11 p. m.

RENEWED DEMAND FOR HOME SITES

Buyers Seeking Property In Suburban Subdivisions, Realtors Claim

Renewed demand for suburban home property is seen in the sale of two houses and seven homesites in Verdugo Woodlands and in Woodland Park within the past week by Twining & Myers, realtors, 108 West Broadway, and all these sales were made to persons who came of their own accord to seek the property they bought, according to W. L. Twining.

In line with this activity, Twining & Myers are preparing to subdivide a two-acre tract that has recently come into their possession, cutting it up into eight large sized lots that comprise the cream of Verdugo Woodlands property, it is declared.

The property is covered with full-grown trees of many varieties and with shrubs that have been carefully trained by expert gardeners for year, and through the heart of the tract a brook meanders. None of the shrubs or trees are to be cut down, and only such changes will be made as are needed to make room for the homes that are to be built on the tract, which lies between Opechee way and Capistrano avenue.

Macadam streets are now being laid through the property, with curbs and gutters; sewers, water, gas and electric lights are already in, and the grounds of the tract are lighted with ornamental electroliers connected with a special lighting system. The tract will be ready for inspection within the next week or ten days, and reservations will be accepted within that time.

"The total value of Mah Jongg sets which China sent us in 1923 was $1,505,000."—News Item. Wonder how much money was spent learning how to play the dern game?

"Who shall I say is asking for him?" inquired central of the man in the booth.

"Mr. O'Cohen."

"Mr. Who?"

"Mr. O'Cohen."

"Wait a minute—the wires are crossed."

When a young girl arrives at just about the right age, she declares that the only man she could ever care for must be tall and dark and have classical features, be a lion among men and a knight among ladies. Then she hooks up with a bow-legged, lath-framed, hatchet-faced youth who wears form-fitting clothes, artillery sox and red shoes, smokes a cigarette that has had the facts smoked out of it, and holds down a job as head squire at a soda fountain.

"At last we've got rid of the rube who used to blow out the gas."

"He's still with us," contradicted Grandma, "only he works different. He puts the gas in his flivver tank and hits sixty miles an hour."

The big temperance problems that are going to agitate the conventions are:

1. Does a thinking man drink?
2. Does a drinking man think?

Liked the taste—carbolic acid.

MUSIC STUDENTS STAGE OPERETTA AT GRADUATION

Judge H. W. Chase Tells Need Of Expansion In Local School System

Occupying the place of the principal number of the graduation exercises, the operetta, "Hiawatha's Childhood," presented by the music students of the graduating class, provided delightful entertainment for over 1500 people who attended the commencement exercises of the Wilson avenue intermediate school last night in the auditorium of the Broadway High school. Diplomas were presented to 206 graduates by Judge Harry W. Chase, member of the board of education.

The story of the operetta was told by songs and dances interspersed with explanatory bits from the famous legendary poem by Longfellow. Enhanced by well-handled and effective lighting, the scenes presented a lovely depiction of the Indian story. An impressionistic setting for the story was obtained by the tepee and picturesque costumes of the children taking part.

Special Features

The first scene opened with an Indian war dance by the blanket clad braves, after which the Indian maidens entered and sang "By the Shores of Gitchee Gumee." The solo number in the first scene, "Ewa-Yea," by Doris Carver in the roll of Nokomis, and the Wind-song and phantom dance were well applauded.

The second scene pictured the youth Hiawatha allured by the flickering lights of the fireflies,

WET WASH IS INEXPENSIVE

Why Stand Over a Steaming Tub in Summertime?

It is a good warm weather suggestion to have the laundryman leave a wet wash bag at your home.

When it's full have him call for it. The laundry will do the hardest work for you, they can do it ridiculously cheap because they are equipped for it. This leaves only the drying and ironing to do at home.

Wet wash service is fast. Your washing is picked up in a bag furnished you by the laundry, whisked away to be separated into "washing groups" so that overalls don't rub shoulders with dainty garments, washed in soft water, rinsed through several rinsings, and returned to you ready to hang out; all so quickly you hardly realize it has left your home.

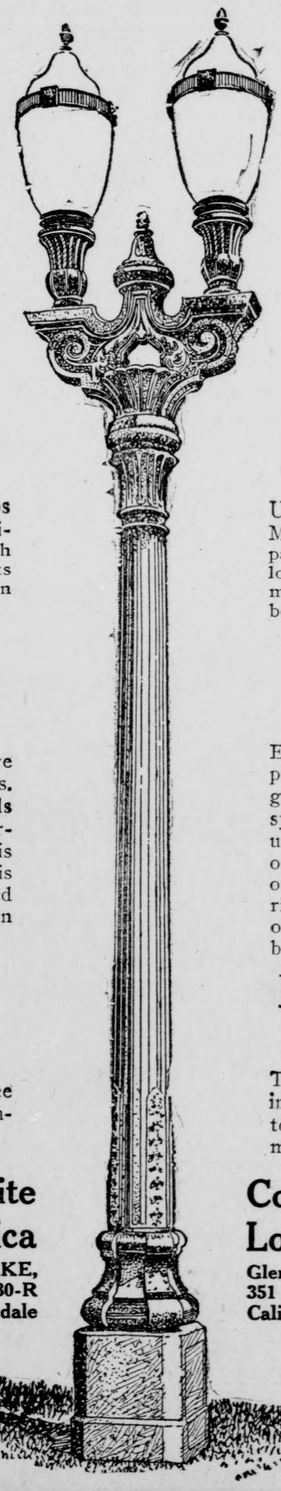
San Francisco's Beautiful Civic Center Chooses

Marbelite Electroliers

San Francisco's $25,000,000 civic center, the most beautiful in America, has selected electroliers made of Marbelite for lighting standards.



San Francisco's tribute to Marbelite as a material is added testimony from both experts and artists as to the many advantages of this new substance.

Made in California

Marbelite is made in Los Angeles, California, and California municipalities which buy California-made products are helping to boost their own community.

Strength of Marbelite

Marbelite electroliers have been submitted to severe tests. A pressure of 58,000 pounds was required to break a Marbelite standard. Marbelite is to concrete what Bessemer is to steel. They are like chilled iron. 15 times stronger than concrete.

Fully Guaranteed

A free replacement guarantee assures the municipality or individual against loss.

Marbelite of America

F. A. CLARKE, Phone Glendale 2530-R Glendale

Economy of Marbelite

Unlike metal standards, Marbelite electroliers need no painting. Their initial cost is lower than metal. There is no maintenance upkeep for Marbelite standards.

Beauty of Marbelite

Electroliers of Marbelite appear to have been carved from granite with all the grace and symmetry of a Grecian column. The columns are fluted or plain with Corinthian, Ionic or Roman capitals. No material other than costly marble or granite can equal the beauty of Marbelite.

For Glendale's Streets

Tell your friends who are interested in ornamental lights to investigate the wonderful merits of Marbelite.

WIDE HIGHWAYS VITAL NEED

We boast a great deal about the boulevards of Southern California, and it may be true that this section has more miles of paved road than other like areas, but it is poor policy for us to rest on our laurels when there is so much room for improvement. One of the real, vital needs of Los Angeles and surrounding territory is wider streets and highways. This need has been mentioned in The Glendale Evening News before, but it is of such importance that it cannot be stressed too strongly or too often.

The narrow highway is the chief cause of traffic congestion. It does not take much mental ability or agility to figure out that if a certain number of cars pass over a certain street in a given time that twice the number of cars could pass over a street twice as wide in the same time—or that the same number could pass over the wider street in half the time.

The San Fernando Road between Burbank and Avenue Twenty in Los Angeles furnishes a good example of the way traffic is impeded by a narrow road. This thoroughfare is just wide enough for two cars abreast, no more. There is a tremendous amount of hauling by truck over the San Fernando road. There are moving vans, trucks carrying fruit and vegetables from the ranches of the San Fernando Valley to the markets of Los Angeles, gravel and cement trucks, merchandise trucks, trucks with long trailers carrying sewer pipe, girders, poles and the like, and, besides these, the regular local and up-state traffic of stages and motor cars.

The heavy trucks move along at a pace of about twelve miles an hour. There is a steady stream of traffic going both ways the greater part of the time, so it is easily seen that on so narrow a road a car that would like to make a reasonable speed finds few opportunities to pass the slow-moving trucks. So the man who would ordinarily drive thirty miles an hour where such speed is allowed is forced to slow down to half that speed.

When traffic regulation is mentioned some one is sure to chime in with a remark about the fast driver. There is a feeling that one who drives right along and passes other cars is in too much of a hurry; that if everyone drove slowly traffic problems would adjust themselves. There is no logic whatever in such reasoning. There are reckless drivers, but the good driver usually goes as fast as the law and other traffic will permit. By doing so he is making use of the road for the shortest possible time. The slower a car moves the longer it is using the road and the greater chance it has of blocking other traffic.

It isn't a question of the individual driver who loses valuable time, or of the wear and tear on his car in starting, stopping and putting on the brakes while driving behind a slow-moving vehicle. It is the question of the greatest good to the greatest number, and this requires the maximum number of cars moving over a certain section of highway in a given time.

The narrow limits of the San Fernando Road and the great volume of hauling that is done on this thoroughfare holds traffic down to half speed. So there are twice as many autos on the road as there should be in a given period. This means traffic congestion and loss of time.

A wider road with the trucks and other slow-moving vehicles compelled to keep in one line, and those who wish to go faster in another, would speed up traffic fifty per cent.

What is true of the San Fernando Road is true of many other roads and streets in Southern California. Wide boulevards and a great many of them is a real, pressing need in a section so far-famed as an all-the-year-round play ground. The progress of the Southland will be impeded if the matter is not remedied very soon.

NOTE TO JAPAN

Secretary Hughes' note to Japan must have the effect of engendering respect for the United States on the part of other nations.

A man who insists on his rights, courteously, but firmly and fearlessly, is the one who will have the respect of his fellows. The one who is vacillating and who cringes to everyone, pleases no one and loses the regard of others who brand him a weak fellow. The same is true of a nation.

Every country has the right to build its racial future as it sees fit and every nation claims and uses this privilege. The United States has truckled to other nations in the past and never won anything by such a weak policy.

If this country, in 1915 or 1916, could have said "stop" to Germany in the manner and tone of the late President Roosevelt, the war might have had a different outcome. As it was, the whole world despised us for keeping out of the war so long and when the war was over refused to give us credit for what we had done.

Courtesy is essential in a well-bred nation, so are sympathy and benevolence when another nation is enduring oppression or suffering a great disaster. But a nation must have a certain amount of self-respect if it wishes to be respected by other nations.

Japan would never esteem the United States highly if we let that country or any other dictate our laws and policies. Secretary Hughes' note is courteous and fearless and it must serve to set Japan right in the matter of our right to exclude whom we will from the United States.

OLD YARN, CAPTAIN!

The yarns of sea captains are always interesting but seldom original. One drifted into port the other day with the information that in the Palayan passage, off the southern end of the island of Palayan, in the Philippines, he encountered eight floating islands, "the largest more than seven acres in extent, with monkeys in the trees that heaved cocoanuts at us as we passed by only fifty feet to starboard."

A good sea tale, but old stuff! When Homer composed the Odyssey, some 3,000 years ago, he told of the Symplegades, at the entrance from the Black Sea into the Bosporus, which rushed together to crush the Argonauts, as they sailed through on their quest for the Golden Fleece. And it was an old yarn then. But that is all right. Sea life is conservative. And the best yarns are the oldest.

Playing Politics

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Mr. Lodge has introduced a new bill for a World Court.

It is too much to imagine that Mr. Lodge expects this program of his to be enacted.

It is playing politics. Some time ago, through the instrumentality of Mr. Lodge and others, the League of Nations was killed in the Senate. Some time afterward Mr. Harding was elected by votes which intimated that he would father an association of nations which would take the place of the League and do all that the League was supposed to have done.

Mr. Harding and Mr. Coolidge were both in favor of the United States joining in the World Court with other nations. This might be possible, for the other nations were forming a World Court and it was only a question of whether the United States would come into it.

Mr. Lodge is trifling with the destinies of mankind.

The spirits of men are still raw, and many of them have their bodies mangled, from the conflict which they have gone through. The people are tired of war and those who are not insane worshipers of their own country recognize that war cannot be avoided except by some sort of an agreement with the other nations.

The only way to stop war is to recognize law as superior to war and create some sort of government in the place of war.

This the other nations, at the instigation of the United States, have attempted to do. Because of partisan politics the United States withdrew from the League. But there will be no rest until, in some way or other, we co-operate with the other nations of the world.

An example of the destructiveness of the Senate's action and the constructive action going on outside of the Senate is the announcement that has been made that Dr. Lloyd B. Felton has discovered a substance which will prevent and even cure pneumonia. Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, Dr. William H. Park and other medical men say that Dr. Felton's treatment will cut the death rate by pneumonia by 25 to 50 per cent.

Ninety thousand people die of pneumonia in this country every year. Dr. Felton's discovery, therefore, if all that is said of it is true, will save from twenty to forty-five thousand lives a year.

This shows how men of science are steadily at work salvaging the human tragedy, while men of politics are at work making that tragedy more sure.

Horoscope

Friendly stars dominate today, according to astrology. Saturn and the sun are in benefic aspect. Mars is strongly adverse.

When the sun enters Cancer today, the longest day in the year, Scorpio will be rising. The aspects are not important in their bearing on human affairs.

Jupiter is in a place that should be generally favorable for trade and commerce.

The conjunction of the moon with Mars is indicative of many serious accidents and heavy loss of life.

Mines may be unusually unsafe, for there may be many perils to which the human equation adds unnecessarily.

The position of Uranus is not favorable to agriculture, for a summer of unseasonable weather is forecast.

Venus is in an aspect read as denoting much depravity and such a reign of vice as the nation never has known.

New difficulties will attend the enforcement of the prohibition laws and extraordinary efforts to undermine the Constitution may be expected.

All the aspects presage serious troubles in which church and state will be involved. In other words, religious prejudice will bring about serious conditions in certain sections of the country.

The summer quarter will be marked by labor disputes in which political issues will be involved, it is foretold.

Persons who travel by rail should be most cautious and should carry accident insurance this summer, if at no other time.

Persons whose birth date it is have a pleasant forecast for the year. They should be especially careful, however, to avoid dissensions that may lead to law suits.

Children born on this day may be impulsive and headstrong, but these subjects of Cancer usually meet with great success and win fame.

All Babylonians, Chaldeans and Egyptians cultivated rows upon rows of regular curls, while the men wore square beads.

Oxygen in the earth's atmosphere is 1000 times greater than that present in the air surrounding the planet Venus, it is estimated.

REPLY TO THE ABOVE

For shame, dear friend! renounce this canting strain!
What wouldst thou have a good great man obtain?
Wealth, title, dignity, gilded chain,
Or throne of corses which his sword hath slain?
Goodness and greatness are not means, but ends.
Hath he not always treasuries, always friends,
The good great man? Three treasures—love and light
And calm thoughts, equable as infant's breath;
And three firm friends, more sure than day and night,

Good Old Days, Then And Now

There is nothing that distinguishes us from ourselves as we were a generation ago more than our dress. Men and women have both become emancipated to a certain degree and greater comfort and convenience have come about through more sensible dress.

There are little things like the cut of the coat and trousers, the style or the absence of the vest, the cut of the collar, the style of the tie and the shape of the shoes that distinguish the well-dressed man of any period, but as a whole men's styles change very little compared to women's. The greatest change in the last generation is the wearing of soft and colored shirts and collars for all but the most special occasions. Men did not wear silk shirts or silk socks or athletic underwear thirty years ago, but they tortured themselves with stiffly laundered collars on all occasions, as well as stiff bosomed shirts and stiff cuffs. The cuffs were sometimes sewed to the shirt, but were often loose and attached by metal holders so the cuffs could be renewed without changing the shirt. The stiff bosoms and the low-cut vests called for fancy studs like the dress shirts of today.

Men never dreamed of pajamas then, they wore night shirts. Many men today detest these modern sleeping garments, but we dare not go back to the old-fashioned kind for fear of ridicule And then we accuse women of enduring discomfort for the sake of style.

Changes in women's dress in the last thirty years are more marked. The short skirt is the symbol of woman's emancipation She has done away with the flaring, heavy, sweeping garment and discarded the long, flounced petticoats she wore beneath it. When the shortened skirt first came into vogue there were those who thought them shameful. Now when these same people see a woman with skirts flopping about her ankles they say, "Ridiculous," "disgusting." Some men and women, too, claim to think that bobbed hair is a sign of depravity. One woman asked another if a certain mutual acquaintance had her hair bobbed, and the answer was, "Oh, no, she's a lady." The time is not far distant when the long-haired woman will look as out of place as the long-skirted one.

Don't you remember when, as children, you used to play in the attic with the old hoop skirts and bustles? Women no longer burden themselves with these things; they no longer endanger their health by squeezing their internal organs in stays as tight as can be drawn. They have discarded the high collar, the towering hairdress, the enormous hat and rapier-like hat pins.

The tendency in both men and women's clothing is toward comfort and good sense. None of us would want to go back to the good old days if we had to dress as we did then.

FIGURES ON BUILDING SHOWN

Pacific Coast States Show 25 Per Cent Drop; Many Cities Are Gaining

Building activities throughout the United States are slowing up perceptibly in the vast majority of cities and towns, but continuing steadily in many large cities, according to the national monthly building survey of S. W. Straus & Co., made public here yesterday.

In more than 330 cities and towns covered by the survey, May building permits and plans filed were 5 per cent ahead of May, 1923. Outside New York city the volume of permits issued was substantially the same last month as in May, 1923, the gains acquired in Chicago, Detroit, Washington, Seattle, Cincinnati, Dallas, St. Paul, Baltimore, Hartford and Newark, and a number of other cities being balanced with the losses in the great mass of cities and towns.

Pacific Coast Drops

The Pacific Coast group of states showed losses of 25 per cent. The Middle West and South just about broke even, while the Eastern group gained 30 per cent.

Building activities in New York continued to be an outstanding feature of interest. The five boroughs reported gains in May of $25,000,000. Building plans filed in the nation's metropolis for the half year period are now

New President Known To Coast Realty Men

In the selection of Charles G. Edwards as president of the National Association of Real Estate boards, the convention chose a man well known to realtordom in California. Last fall Mr. Edwards, then president of the New York Real Estate board, visited the Pacific coast and was entertained in this state by the officers of the California Real Estate association and also by the officers of the Los Angeles Realty board. At that time he expressed a keen interest in the progress of the business of real estate in California and was particularly interested in the educational program planned by the California Real Estate Association and the University of Southern California.

Association Endorses Realtors' Blue Book

The Realty Blue Book of California, a compilation of fifty authorities on real estate, supervised by an editorial committee of twenty-three members of the California Real Estate association, under the chairmanship of William H. Akin, is the first book on California real estate to receive the endorsement of the state association. The State Real Estate commissioner has also endorsed the work.

Keiser and Barbour Tour Eastern Cities

Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser, wife and daughter, and Henry P. Barbour, president of the California Real Estate association, are touring the east, following their attendance at the national convention. They will return to California in July.

GATHER DATA ON PAVING METHODS

Increase of Motor Traffic Shows Concrete's Value as Street Surface

Engineers and contractors engaged in street paving operations who have been studying the various methods of pavement construction have secured some interesting information regarding the steps taken by other large cities in solving their paving problems.

It is pointed out that the rapid growth of the automobile industry and the increasing number of autos and trucks on the city streets have practically revolutionized the paving business. With 12,000,000 autos and trucks in the United States the thoroughfares of the cities are called on to carry a traffic totally different from that of fifteen years ago.

In order to determine the most practical methods of meeting the situation and to secure the benefit of the experience of other cities, engineers have investigated the street pavements of a number of large cities, and it has been found that in most cases concrete streets are satisfactorily meeting all modern requirements.

Cities Use Concrete

California motorists have been aware of the merits of concrete as a road paving material for a long time, as this type of paving has been used extensively throughout the state. Many cities solved their street problems through the use of concrete. Among the larger cities that have used concrete for street pavements are Los Angeles, Seattle, Washington, D. C., Toledo, Macon, Ga., Atlanta, Duluth and many others.

Although concrete has been speci-

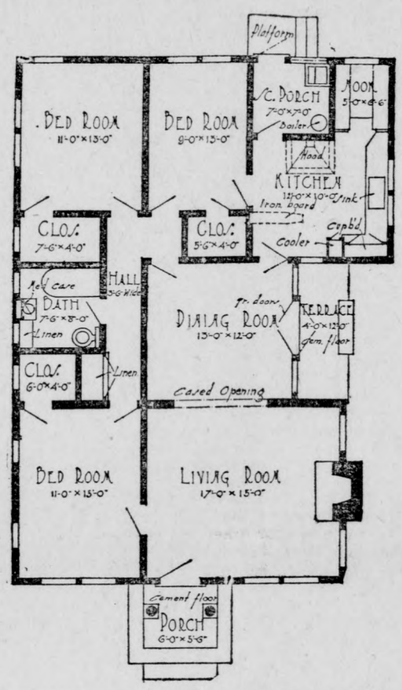
Pillars And Stability

The style of the massive front porch on this home enhances the appearance of balance and solidity that form such pleasing features of this design. Photo by courtesy of Low Building Co., authorized agents Pacific Ready-Cut Homes, Inc.



Here is an illustration of how heavy, massive pillars centrally located, give balance to a house and reflect stability. One of the frequent criticisms of a small house is that the front porch is very frequently poorly designed. This home has a small porch, but it is of massive structure and gives symmetry to the structure. The front door is of heavy Colonial design, finished in white enamel and dull brass hardware. Awnings and trellises add distinction to the front of the house without increasing cost. Observe that this design embodies three bedrooms and each bedroom has a large closet. The home has a breakfast nook, rear screen porch and side terrace.

Four Cross Border of State For First Time

Four members of the California Real Estate Association's delegation to the national convention at Washington were native Californians who had never before left this state.

William Ardis, secretary of the Downey Board; Mrs. C. A. Ricks, Martinez, wife of ex-vice president of the California Real Estate Association; Fred T. Wood, Oakland; and J. M. Gregory, 65 years of age, San Francisco, were the four California-born realtors.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Meat packing concerns operating in the San Francisco district report a considerable increase in volume of trade over last year. Surplus meat supplies in storage eight months ago have practically been eliminated and as a result live stock prices in local markets are stiffening. Packers, however, report collections slow.

Jap Boycott Threat Groundless, Is Claim

LOS ANGELES, June 21. — Manufacturers and merchants in Los Angeles fear no boycott of their goods in Japan, according to W. W. Widenham, president of a business concern here. "There is less sentiment in Japan against the United States on account of the exclusion law than one would expect," Widenham said.

Steel Firms Laying Off Many Employes

PITTSBURGH, June 21.—Many men have been laid off this week in the steel industry here and the period of extreme dullness continues in the pig iron market. Realtor Recovering His Health In Paris

W. Ross Campbell, well known Los Angeles realtor, a director of the California Real Estate association, and recently honored at the national convention by being made a director of the business property division of the National association, is rapidly recovering his health. He recently saw the international horse race between the king of the British turf and Epinard, the pride of France, and plans to greet the Californians on the Olympic team on their arrival in the French capital.

Butchers Making Slim Returns, Report Shows

CHICAGO, June 21.—Retail butchers barely scrape a living out of the business, the Northwestern University business research department reports after a year's survey that shows that the average successful butcher earns but five per cent on his investment. President Coolidge received Mr. Barbour in the White House. William M. Garland, the war-time president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who conducted his office from Washington during the war, was welcomed by his many friends at the capital.

The Huntington hotel, one of the largest and finest in southern California, has been secured, and will be opened specially to accommodate the visitors.

Caravans from the northern, central and southern sections of the state are being formed, and it is predicted that Oakland and San Francisco will send 500 delegates to the state convention, traveling as an automobile caravan from the Bay cities.

The members of the Pasadena Realty Board have raised in excess of $3000 to be used as the entertainment fund of the convention, and the various committees of the board are already at work on the program of entertainment.

BETTER BUILT HOMES—Not Merely Houses

Our mill produces 3000 homes per year

The Pacific reputation has been built on the quality of materials and workmanship offered and the service rendered to the individual homebuilder. More than 19,000 of these structures have been built and the production schedule this year will go over 3,000 homes. By placing your order with us you secure the same buying advantages as the investor who builds a hundred homes—or a thousand homes for that matter. You appreciate the value of quantity production. Henry Ford has taught the industrial world that to reduce cost purchases must be made from the source and every phase of production systematized. This is precisely what has been accomplished in the Pacific mill. Call and look over our scores of interesting plans.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Miss B.—We do know that catarrhal conditions can be brought on by an incorrect diet, especially one lacking in vitamins and mineral elements. You should have a liberal supply of vegetables and a liberal helping of fruit and salads every day, besides two or three glasses of milk. If you are overweight, count your calories and reduce, and if you are underweight, count your calories and gain.

"Dear Doctor Lulu—From 167 pounds to 153 is going some. On March 19, I looked at myself with much disgust; then and there I started. But—I have a lot of trouble with my bowels. They simply won't move without a pink pill. Can you help me out, please?

"I feel perfectly wonderful. Many thanks to you. To say I adore you would be mild.—Mrs. E. C."

Yes, I surely can help you. For your evening meal, have at least one-half pound of lettuce. If, with the inclusion of other greens and laxative foods at your other meals and your exercises, that does not help, you will have to add some bran to your diet. Take about one-half cupful of cereal bran a day, and count it about 50 C. You may also take liquid paraffin or agar. You can take all these you need, without counting any calories. Thanks for the adoration. I love it.

Mrs. S.—You should have a thorough examination. It may be possible there is some abnormal condition that causes your acute menstrual pains. Correct posture has considerable bearing upon the right position of the uterus. You can take exercises to strengthen your back and abdominal walls. Send for our article on Atonic Abdominal Walls (don't forget to enclose s. a. s. e.) Add to the exercises outlined, the exercise of walking on your hands and feet, as an animal walks. This will swing the organs forward and take off the pressure and relieve congestion. Take hot sitz baths before and during the menstrual period; this brings relief in many cases. See that your bowels are thoroughly emptied. Better take a high enema every day during the period. (We have an article on Constipation you may have.)

Mrs. R.—You may have a fat face but a thin body and neck. You wonder if you have an inward goitre.

It is probable that the contour of your face is an inherited characteristic which you cannot help. If you had inward goitre, you would have some pressure symptoms, and if it were of the kind we call the exophthalmic goitre, you would have other distressing symptoms, such as palpitation of the heart, trembling hands, extreme thinness, bulging eye-balls, and many nervous symptoms.

Mrs. K.—You want to know if Lulu found Peters? Yes, she caught him young and still holds him.

If you write for the article, It Won't Be Any Easier Tomorrow, that will start you to reduce. Even the title will do it.

L. A.—Is there a permanent cure for ulcer of the stomach? Yes, duodenum and stomach ulcers apparently can be cured by correct dietetic and medicinal treatment. There are some cases that have to be operated upon, but even those cases have to have treatment along medicinal and dietetic lines for several months. A patient usually has to be confined to bed for three or four weeks. The dietetic treatment differs with each case. Sometimes a fast is ordered; sometimes milk, two or three ounces every hour or so; then later, strained cream soups or vegetables, purees of vegetables and fruit, cereal gruels and soft cooked eggs, cottage cheese, etc., are added to the list of foods. Sometimes the patient has to be fed through a special tube. But stomach or duodenal or any other serious ulcers should not be treated by long distance, not home or neighbor advice. You will see a specialist? Do.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a.s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Tells Betrothal

A happy feature of the meeting yesterday of the Rebekah Afternoon club with Mrs. W. F. Kaiser at 1332 East Harvard street, was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Bernice Kaiser, daughter of the hostess, to Frank Stanley, also well known in Rebekah and I. O. O. F. circles.

The announcement was made most cleverly and came as a great surprise. After a short business meeting of the club Mrs. Sadie Bronnenberg read an original poem, telling of the betrothal.

The six grade pupils presented a splendid program Thursday afternoon at the school. They gave a clever dramatization of "The Courtship of Miles Standish." They planned the program themselves even to making the costumes. Other numbers on the program included vocal and instrumental solos.

At this time Mrs. Mary O. Ryan, principal of the school, presented silk flags to Francis Jones and Sam Blake for their services during the year in looking after and caring for the school flag. Oresso Edmonds, who has answered the telephone for Mrs. Ryan, was also presented with a silk flag.

VARIED SHAMPOOS

I have a friend who complains that shampooing her hair is such a bore that she would hate the once-in-three-weeks performance if she did not vary the method each time. I asked her about her variations and she laughed and said: "Oh, all the things you recommend in the column." She has dark brown hair, with the loveliest coppery tinges in it here and there; consequently she can use all sorts of shampooes with good effect.

She uses tar water sometimes. That is, she takes a tablespoonful of ordinary tar, puts it into a glass jar and pours on it a quart of hot water. After a few days, she strains this off into a bottle, and rubs it into her scalp. This treatment she keeps up a week before the shampoo. She shampooes sometimes with tar soap, sometimes with the mixture of one part powdered henna, two parts powdered castile, leaving the lather on for ten minutes. This accentuates the coppery tinges in her hair. Now and then she mixes a whole ounce of powdered henna with the hot water, to make a paste, coats hair and scalp quickly, leaves it on three minutes, shampooes it off with castile soap.

In the summer when eggs are cheap, she gives herself egg shampooes. As her hair is thick, she beats up two eggs, white and yolk together, rubs them well into the scalp and lets them dry in the sunshine. Then she shampooes with castile soap made into a liquid by adding hot water, rinses and dries the hair in the sun, spreading it out so the sun gets to every part of it. She uses the red wine and egg shampoo, too, especially good for dark hair—claret (home made) one cup, one beaten egg, one large pinch of soda. This is rubbed into the hair for several minutes.

Puzzled—Drinking hot water before breakfast and taking bran each day as you have done will help you get rid of some of your trouble, but it is evident that you need to do more in order to have a clear skin. Eat less meat, substitute whole wheat bread for that made from white flour, eat less rich food of all kinds, and take more fruit and green vegetables during all the coming warm months.

B. C. L.—The advice above is suited also to your needs for a reducing diet. As you did not state your age, I can merely guess about your weight. If you are between 25 and 30, with a height of five feet five inches, your weight should be about 125 pounds, or a little less.

Florence S.—When applying rouge it is always best for the skin to have a cream used on it first, but this is not necessary in the use of a powder.

Take a spring tonic to rid yourself of sallowness at this season. A tea made from dandelion roots will do this, or just plenty of dandelion salads during the time that the leaves are young and juicy.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be asnwered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

The Case of Jennie Brice — Serial Story

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART. Copyright, 1924.

XXIV.—"HE WAS A FIEND"

With the newspaper files before me, it is not hard to give the details of that sensational trial. It commenced on Monday, the seventh of May, but it was late Wednesday when the jury was finally selected. I was at the court-house early on Thursday, and so was Mr. Reynolds.

The district attorney made a short speech. "We propose, gentlemen, to prove that the prisoner Philip Ladley, murdered his wife," he said in part. "We will show first that a crime was commited; then we will show a motive for this crime, and, finally, we expect to show that the body washed ashore at Sewickley is the body of the murdered woman, and thus establish beyond doubt the prisoner's guilt."

Mr. Ladley listened with attention. He wore the brown suit, and looked well and cheerful. He was much more like a spectator than a prisoner, and he was not so nervous as I was.

Of that first day I do not recall much. I was called early in the day. The district attorney questioned me.

"Your name?"

"Elizabeth Marie Pitman."

"Your occupation?"

"I keep a boarding-house at 42 Union street."

"You know the prisoner?"

"Yes. He was a boarder in my house."

"For how long?"

"From December first. He and his wife came at that time."

"Was his wife the actress, Jennie Brice?"

"Yes, sir."

"Were they living together at your house the night of March fourth?"

"Yes, sir."

"In what part of the house?"

"They rented the double parlors downstairs, but, on account of the flood, I moved them upstairs to the second floor front."

"That was on Sunday? You moved them on Sunday?"

"Yes, sir."

"At what time did you retire that night?"

"Not at all. The water was very high. I lay down, dressed, at one o'clock, and dropped into a doze."

"How long did you sleep?"

"An hour or so. Mr. Reynolds, a boarder, roused me to say he had heard some one rowing a boat in the lower hall."

"Do you keep a boat around during flood times?"

"Yes, sir."

"What did you do when Mr. Reynolds roused you?"

"I went to the top of the stairs. My boat was gone."

"Was the boat secured?"

"Yes sir. Anyhow, there was no current in the hall."

"What did you do then?"

"I waited a time and went back to my room."

"What examination of the house did you make—if any?"

"Mr. Reynolds looked around."

"What did he find?"

"He found Peter, the Ladleys' dog, shut in a room on the third floor."

"Was there anything unusual about that?"

"I had never known it to happen before."

"State what happened later."

"I did not go to sleep again. At a quarter after four, I heard the boat come back. I took a candle and went to the stairs. It was Mr. Ladley. He said he had been out getting medicine for his wife."

"Did you see him tie up the boat?"

"Yes."

"Did you observe any stains on the rope?"

"I did not notice any."

"What was the prisoner's manner at that time?"

"I thought he was surly."

"Now, Mrs. Pitman, tell us about the following morning."

"I saw Mr. Ladley at a quarter before seven. He said to bring breakfast for one. His wife had gone away. I asked if she was not ill, and he said no; that she had gone away early; that he had rowed her to Federal street, and that she would be back Saturday. It was shortly after that that the dog Peter brought in one of Mrs. Ladley's slippers, water-soaked."

"You recognized the slipper?"

"Positively. I had seen it often."

"What did you do with it?"

"I took it to Mr. Ladley."

"What did he say?"

"He said at first that it was not hers. Then he said if it was, she would never wear it again—and then added—because it was ruined."

"Did he offer any statement as to where his wife was?"

"No, sir. Not at that time. Before, he had said she had gone away for a few days."

"Tell the jury about the broken knife."

"The dog found it floating in the parlor, with the blade broken."

"You had not left it downstairs?"

"No, sir. I had used it upstairs, the night before, and left it on a mantel of the room I was using as a temporary kitchen."

"Was the door of this room locked?"

"No. It was standing open."

"Were you not asleep in this room?"

"Yes."

"You heard no one come in?"

"No one—until Mr. Reynolds roused me."

"Where did you find the blade?"

"Behind the bed in Mr. Ladley's room."

"What else did you find in the room?"

"A blood-stained towel behind the washstand. Also, my onyx clock was missing."

"Where was the clock when the Ladleys were moved up into this room?"

"On the mantel. I wound it just before they came up-stairs."

"When you saw Mrs. Ladley on Sunday, did she say she was going away?"

"No, sir."

"Did you see any preparation for a journey?"

"The black and white dress was laid out on the bed and a small bag. She said she was taking the dress to the theatre to lend to Miss Hope."

"Is that all she said?"

"No. She said she'd been wishing her husband would drown; that he was a fiend."

I could see that my testimony had made an impression.

The next bill to be presented by Murphy's Comedians at the big tent at Stocker street and North Brand boulevard will be "It's a Boy," a sparkling comedy that opens tomorrow for a week's run, according to an announcement by Manager J. A. Menard.

"It's a Boy" is slated for its first performance on the coast in Glendale, Mr. Menard states, and Murphy's Comedians are lining up a cast for next week's show that will put the play over in a fashion worthy of its western premieres. The play, he says, is to be staged in some of the leading coast theatres during the present season, but Glendale is to have first chance to see it.

"East Is West," the sparkling comedy that has been making such a hit during the week's run in the big tent, closes tonight, and those who have seen the play unhesitatingly pronounce it one of the striking successes of the Murphy organization since it came to Glendale.

VICTOR FLEMING SIGNS

Fleming recently signed a long term contract to direct for Paramount following the success of several of his recent pictures including the Zane Grey stories, "To the Last Man" and "The Call of the Canyon" and Byron Morgan's "The Code of the Sea."

THE GLENDALE

"The Night Hawk," with Harry Carey, concludes at the Glendale theatre today. From Sunday to Thursday inclusive, "Thy Name Is Woman" will be the feature picture.

THE T. D. & L.

"Conductor 1492" concludes at the T. D. and L. theatre today. Sunday to Tuesday inclusive, "Broadway After Dark" is the feature film.

THE GATEWAY

"A Son of the Sahara" shows at the Gateway theatre for the last times today.

WILL FILM 'SNOB'

Monta Bell is preparing to film Helen R. Martin's novel, "The Snob." It will be his third picture.

WORKS WITH HIS CRITIC

Working side by side with one who was once his critic is the unique experience Reginald Barker is having. The man who once pointed out his shortcomings, as well as his virtues, along with others of like profession, now is Barker's associate.

This man is Waldemar Young, formerly dramatic critic of a San Francisco newspaper, now one of the screen's leading scenarists and writers. Young and Barker are working together on the adaptation of the William Vaughn Moody stage play, "The Great Divide." Barker was once a member of the spoken drama profession.

CONSTIPATION OVERCOME

The use of FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS will bring speedy relief from constipation if taken promptly. They are purely vegetable and act on the liver. Mr. John D. McComb, Lucas Co. Home, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "Have used FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS in severe cases of constipation to which I am subject and found them beneficial." FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS are easy to take, leave no unpleasant after effects. Try them.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY PLAYS GOLF

"What in the world is Uncle Wiggily doing?" asked Aunt Lettie, the goat lady. She was visiting Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day in the hollow stump bungalow. And when the goat lady asked this question she was looking out of the window.

"What does Uncle Wiggily seem to be doing?" inquired Nurse, for she was baking a carrot cake and she was so particular about it that she had no time to look out of the window.

"Uncle Wiggily seems to be knocking a little white ball around the yard with a club," bleated Aunt Lettie. "Oh, what a whack he hit that poor ball!" she cried a moment later. "What in the world is he doing that for, Nurse Jane?"

"I think Uncle Wiggily is playing golf," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Yes, that's what he's doing," she said as she took a look through the window, for she now had her carrot cake in the oven and it was off her mind. "Or rather," she went on, "Uncle Wiggily is practicing to be able to hit the ball very well and so he practices in the yard every day. I suppose Mr. Bow Wow, the dog gentleman, is coming over for him soon, and they will go down to the golf links and have a regular game."

"Hum," sniffed Aunt Lettie. "I'd like to catch Uncle Butter playing a silly game like that—it's just croquet, that's all it is—but they give it the fancy name of golf! Hum," and she sniffed again.

Surely enough a little later along came Mr. Bow Wow, the dog gentleman, and he and Uncle Wiggily went off to play a game of golf. They each had a bag of clubs and some small, round, white, hard rubber balls, which bounced and bounded as they were hit off over the green fields.

"Aren't we having fun!" cried Uncle Wiggily to the dog gentleman, as they raced after the balls once they had hit them, sending them far away.

"Dandy fun!" barked Mr. Bow Wow. "Of course, I suppose it seems rather silly to knock a ball as far as you can and then chase after it, and maybe hunt half an hour to find it in the tall grass, just to knock it away again. But it's a great game."

"It surely is," agreed Uncle Wiggily.

So they played hole after hole, for in golf, you know, you try to knock the white ball into eighteen holes, one after the other. At last, when they had reached the final hole, Uncle Wiggily said:

"Let's sit down in the shade and rest."

"I'm with you," barked Mr. Bow Wow.

The two friends were sitting under a shady bush when, all of a sudden, something crashed through the bush and fell to the ground with a thud between Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Bow Wow. It was a round, hard, white ball, about as large as the end of one of Mr. Bow Wow's paws.

"What's that?" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"I'm not sure, but I think it's a golf ball," said Mr. Bow Wow. "Yes, it is—a golf ball," he went on, as he picked up the white thing.

"But how large it is!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, for of course he and Mr. Bow Wow played with rabbit-sized balls, which were about as big as a boy's marble.

"This must be a man's golf ball," said Uncle Wiggily, as he picked it up. "Men and women play golf, you know," he said to the dog gentleman. "Yes, there's a man out there now," went on the rabbit. "He knocked this ball over here. He's looking for it—he and his caddie."

"What's a caddie?" asked the dog gentleman.

"It's a boy who carries the bag of clubs and helps find the lost balls," answered the rabbit. "But neither the caddie nor the man can find this ball. It's a good thing it didn't hit us, coming as close as it did."

"Shall we throw the ball out where they can see it?" asked Mr. Bow Wow.

"No, don't," advised Uncle Wiggily. "If we throw it they'll see where it comes from—under this bush—and the boy may run over here and chase us. He might not mean any harm, but I don't like to be chased after I've been playing golf. We'll just leave the ball here. When we go away the caddie may find it."

Uncle Wiggily and Bow Wow watched while the man and boy searched for the lost golf ball. And when it couldn't be found the man took another ball from his bag and played with that. The man and boy went on over the hill.

And then, all of a sudden, while Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Bow Wow were still resting under the bush, along came the Skillery Scallery Alligator.

"I want some ears to nibble!" bellowed the 'Gator. He opened his mouth very wide.

"Try chewing on this!" shouted Uncle Wiggily, and he threw the man's big golf ball down the Alligator's throat.

"Gurr! Guff! Wug!" gargled the 'Gator, and he was so surprised at finding a golf ball in his mouth that he ran away and didn't try to bite Uncle Wiggily or Mr. Bow Wow in the least.

"It's a good thing to know how to play golf," said Uncle Wiggily, as he and the dog gentleman went home a little later.

"Yes, indeed," barked Mr. Bow Wow. "And wouldn't that man be surprised if he knew where his golf ball was—in the 'Gator's mouth?"

"He surely would!" chuckled the rabbit. And if the coal shovel doesn't hide in the wood box when the match wants to take it to the movies, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily at the dentist's.

NAVY BAND TO PLAY AT BALL GAME HERE SUNDAY

Official Sanction Is Given to Musicians of U. S. S. California; Pick of Fleet's Best Baseball Players to Tackle Sox

The biggest baseball day Glendale has ever known, and one that should rival the opening day ceremonies and crowds in the Coast league, is scheduled for tomorrow, when the picked team of the Pacific coast fleet, accompanied by the prize band of the navy—fifty high class musicians of the U. S. S. California—will invade the White Sox park to play the Glendale team.

The sailor team, made up of the best ball players aboard the ships that are numbered in the Pacific coast fleet, are coming to Glendale with but one ambition—to beat the White Sox. Assisting them in the way of long and frequent cheers will be several hundred gobs, who will make the trip from San Pedro to Glendale on special trains.

Funds for Dependents

In addition to the fact that a mighty good brand of ball will be uncorked at the local park tomorrow, every person should keep in mind that the players are donating their time, Manager Frank Kerwin is donating the use of the park, and all officials and others connected with the game are just as generous, since the proceeds of the game will go to the dependents of the Mississippi disaster victims.

Commander E. D. Washburn, head fleet athletic officer; Captain Gates of the U. S. S. California; Lieutenant Case of the same ship; Lieutenant Billings of the Air Service team of San Diego, and Hap O'Connor, are the men of the Pacific fleet who are working to make the benefit game a big success.

Official sanction for the use of the California's band at the game was given last night by Admiral Samuel S. Robison. This fifty-piece band is regarded as the prize musical aggregation of the fleet, and will give a concert in connection with the game.

Sailor Teams Combine

In an effort to stop the winning streak of the White Sox, the athletic officers of the fleet interested in the game are going to put into the field the pick of the baseball stars who wear blue uniforms. Many of the players will be from the Air Station team, which won the championship of the fleet yesterday by defeating the U. S. S. California team, 9 to 3.

It is probable that Moudy, star hurler for the California, will be on the mound for the sailors, although Moudy pitched yesterday against the Air men. Hanlon is another hurler that can be depended upon, while Fiebecoro of the air fleet team will probably be on hand. Billings or Hemingway will work behind the bat for the gobs.

Carl Sawyer will have his regular line-up intact for the game. Joe Sullivan, hailed as king of baseball in Southern California, will be there to play his usual game.

Paul Shellenback will hover around first base. Sawyer will hold down the keystone bag, with Hirigoyen at short and Shields at third. Out in the gardens will be Young, Dorman and Orsatt.

Reiger May Pitch

At the present time it looks like Elmer Reiger, former coast league star, who turned back the Gilmore Oilers for Win No. 17, will get the pitching assignment for the White Sox. Reiger has been working out faithfully during the last week to perfect his control.

All in all, one of the best ball games ever played at the San Fernando road home of the White Sox is expected to be uncorked for the benefit of fans tomorrow afternoon. The Sox will be out to make it Win No. 19 while the sailors want the distinction of doing what other semi-pro teams in Southern California have been unable to do—defeat the Glendale team.

Remember, the funds go to the dependents of the Mississippi blast victims. In addition to the big game, there will be plenty of music by the U. S. S. California crack band, and there will be plenty going on every minute of the afternoon.

The big game will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

HAS FIFTY-FIFTY CHANCE IN GAME

'Pop' Fuller Sees Possible Win for Helen Wills In Paris Match

BERKELEY, Cal., June 21.—"Helen Wills still has a fifty-fifty chance to defeat Suzanne Lenglen in play at Paris next month," declares William C. ("Pop") Fuller, California member of the United States Lawn Tennis association for the development of junior tennis and the man who "discovered" Miss Wills.

"There is no alibi for Helen losing the matches at Wimbledon," Fuller said. "Helen was just off form. Neither Dr. Wills nor I feel that the loss of the matches at Wimbledon will affect her chances of winning future matches.

"I do not predict victory for Helen over Suzanne," Fuller continued, "but I do not hesitate to say that Helen still has a fifty-fifty chance to defeat her if she plays up to her usual form."

Masons Rally Round At Beefsteak Dinner

Members of all Masonic organizations in Glendale gathered at Whiting's ranch, La Crescenta, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, for their annual stag athletic tournament and beefsteak dinner, the latter to be served at 6 o'clock.

One of the features of the afternoon will be a lively ball game between Unity lodge No. 366 and Glendale lodge No. 544. Emil Kiefer captains the former and Dr. G. A. Campbell the latter. It will be a game for the local Masonic championship.

The Sciots' band, forty pieces strong, will furnish music before, during and after the ball game. There will be a series of field events, culminating in the beefsteak feast, for which hundreds of pounds of luscious sirloins have been garnered.

Informal Reception At Club on Thursday

TUJUNGA, June 21.—An informal reception to the Tujunga friends of the Woman's club will be held Thursday night, June 26, at the new club house on San Ysidro street. Open house will be held from 8 to 10 o'clock by the members. The affair will be informal.

BASEBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about baseball—

If you want a rule interpreted—

If you want to know anything about a play or player—

Write John B. Foster, the man who helped make the rules under which the game is played today. If you want a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed, envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

Address: John B. Foster, Special Baseball Correspondent of the Evening News, 811 World Building, New York.

QUESTION—Are dubs in an organized league allowed to play exhibition games against clubs in an outlaw league?

ANSWER—They are not.

QUESTION—Does the ball player pay his railroad fare, hotel bills and other expenses while on a trip with his club?

ANSWER—The club pays railroad fare and hotel bills and some times street car fare. It also pays for meals while traveling.

QUESTION—May you slide at all the bases? If not at how many may you slide?

ANSWER—You may slide at all the bases.

QUESTION — Two teams have agreed to play a seven inning twilight game. At the end of the fifth inning the umpire calls the game on account of darkness. The score is 11 to 10. The losing team wants to postpone the game to another day, but the leaders take the money and walk off the field. Could the game be called when the leaders win?

ANSWERED—It seems to have been called. The umpire would have full power to stop the game if he thought it were too dark to continue. Otherwise it looks like strong-arm methods on the part of the leaders.

QUESTION—Runner on first. One out. Batter hits to shortstop. Runner on first doesn't move. Shortstop throws to first. Batter is out. Could he throw to second for a double play.

ANSWER—He could.

All-Stars and Oilers Will Meet Tomorrow

With eight defeats and no victories to their credit since the opening of the Summer league, Jasper Washington, manager of the Colored All-Stars, will send his men into the game against the Gilmore Oilers tomorrow afternoon with instructions to win. Jasper has imported several players for this game, he announces.

The game will be played on the Oilers' new field at Third and Fairfax. The Oilers have dropped the last two games, one to the White Sox and one to El Segundo, and are determined to break their losing streak, so tomorrow's battle should be good. Bob Wallace, former Angel hurler, will be on the mound for the Oilers.

REDUCE CAR CREWS

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 20.—Every two-man trolley on the Springfield Street railway is to be converted into a one-man car as a result of a retrenchment policy following a wage increase enforced by the board of arbitration. This will cost 150 men their jobs.

STOESSEL FAILS TO PROVE CLASS

Former Amateur Looks Like Willard But That's All, Says Fair Play

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Joe Stoessel, former amateur heavy, did not show signs of becoming an improved Jess Willard—whom he resembles in stature and build—in his bout against Quintin Romero in this city on Wednesday night.

As for Quintin, he has changed his natural manner of mixing in such way as to make of himself less of a target for opponents. The result was a crouch which was effective in saving him a lot of punishment, but at the same time made it difficult for him to shoot his own punches, especially his right.

Stoessel injured his hand, his right, when it collided with the top of Romero's hard head instead of his jaw. This happened in the fourth round, and there after Joe had but one hand to use. Quintin got the decision. It was not a brilliant bout—nothing like the Johnson-Balsa battle the other night.

Glendale Elks Win In Huntington Park Game

The Huntington Park Elks bowling team, which invaded Glendale last night, returned home without winning one of the three games played in their match with the Glendale Elks bowling team. Neise was high man for the local Elks, rolling 232 in the second game, and followed it through with 228 in the closing game.

Cecil Cruze Given Chance to Do His Stuff for Lincoln

Another baseball player who romped around the San Fernando lot has been given an opportunity to get into big time stuff. This time it is Cecil Cruze, who pitched for the White Sox on several occasions. Cruze has been offered a contract with the Lincoln club of the Western League. Cruze left Glendale to play with the Phoenix team of the Copper league.

Walter Camp Looks to 'Sir Charley' to Show Speed At Paris Games

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. Copyright 1924.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The fact that Charley Paddock did not finish out in front at the Olympic trials at Cambridge does not necessarily mean that he will finish back in the ruck when the big events are run off at Paris.

While Paddock did not run as steadily and consistently at Cambridge as did Scholz, for instance, there were certain points in both sprints where he was running faster than any man on the track. It may be that over on the other side he will make the supreme effort, as he did in last Friday's 100-meter dash, that will carry him ahead of all the rest.

Paddock has a remarkable finish. He closed up distance in the finishes at Cambridge on both days faster than any other man. Trouble with his feet handicapped him somewhat in the tryouts, but he is still one of the most likely men, provided he does not pull up lame.

Coaches Know Game

The coaches who are handling the Olympic team did themselves proud in the matter of judgment at those Cambridge trials. A typical instance was the handling of Joie Ray. He was held out for the 3000-meter and showed all his old dash and form, whereas it would have been easy to make mistakes with him in the present state of affairs.

Great Britain has 1,044,000 unemployed.

ANGEL DISCARD WINS GAME FOR TIGER TEAM, 5-1

Work of Claude Thomas on Mound Enables Vernon To Get Fourth

By BEN McGUIRE
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—Claude Thomas, Vernon southpaw and former Angel twirler, discarded by Manager Krug as all through, demonstrated the Angel skipper is wrong, by defeating the Angels, 5 to 1, and making the count four straight for Vernon.

Thomas pitched splendid ball and would have registered a shutout only for his own error in the third, when he heaved the ball over the first baseman's head. Doc Crandall was on the mound for the Seraphs and yielded six hits, one of these a home run by Jimmy McDowell in the third, but was in trouble on several different occasions from issuing too many passes.

The Angels scored their only run in the third, on an error and a sacrifice fly. Vernon counted three in the fifth, when Crandall weakened, hitting a batsman, walking two, followed by two hits.

The Bees overcame a four-run lead piled up by the Portland crew in the first inning yesterday at Salt Lake City, and finally beat the visiting team, 10 to 7. The Bees touched Rachac for fifteen hits. Singleton went the route for the Bees. Frederick got a home run.

Boehler, Robertson and even the Great Walter Mails were unable to stop the Seals yesterday afternoon at San Francisco, and when the game ended, the league leaders had piled up 15 runs, while the Oaks had only 2. The first inning was disaster itself, for Beohler and Mails allowed no less than nine earned runs in the opening frame.

It took Seattle and Sacramento only 1 hour and 45 minutes to settle yesterday's game at Sacramento, which the Indians won, 8 to 3. Williams went the route for the Indians, while Hall and Thompson worked for the Solons.

Vacation Course of Study Is Open to Members of All Denominations

BURBANK, June 21.—The daily vacation Bible school of the Presbyterian church now has an enrollment of approximately 100 students, according to Mrs. Benson, who is in charge of the junior department. Miss Green is conducting the primary work.

While the school is being conducted at the Presbyterian church, it is undenominational, the teachers state, and pupils need not even be attendants at any Sunday school, as a requirement to attend the Bible school. Any boy or girl, 6 to 12 years of age, is most cordially welcomed.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—Week-end dullness and the absence of traders on the Los Angeles stock exchange at its short session today left that usually busy mart devoid of any thrills, only a slight variation in the price of Los Angeles Investment stock causing any apprehension whatever.

Opening at $3.55 and carrying on three several sales, the lack of bidders caused some of it to go at $3.52 under pressure. Smaller blocks offered later were bought at $3.55, indicating the general firmness of the market.

Richmond in the mining list opened up a little, sales being made at 6 cents, a decided gain over the last few days' trading. All other issues were firm, indicating that the market is not stagnant, but simply dormant and devoid of usual activity.

Julian preferred held firm at $32.12½, while common sold at $19.25. Although this is not an opportune time for selling, it is expected that the first of the week will see increased activity with the closing of quarter promising dividend payments in some of the issues.

lop; a trot will bring him in," ruefully commented one veteran, who was an old hand at Bryan's first convention in '96.

Wherever Democrats gather, there stalks the name of John W. Davis of West Virginia. It was discussed nonchalantly the first of the week when the leaders began to arrive in New York. Slowly it has become serious, until today the West Virginian loomed up as the outstanding contender should the form chart bear out the predictions and private fears of the leaders.

Temporary Officers Named by Committee

NEW YORK, June 21.—The Democratic national committee, holding its final session before the opening of the convention, today perfected its convention organization by the formal election of temporary officers.

The selection of Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, as temporary chairman and keynote speaker, was formally approved. Charles S. Greathouse of Indiana was named temporary secretary, and Burt New of Indiana, executive secretary.

Harmony Prevails

A spirit of harmony pervaded the session, climaxed by an announcement from Chairman Cordell Hull that no contests had been filed in any of the delegations to the convention.

The committee, in selecting convention officers, named J. J. Hughes of Iowa as sergeant-at-arms, and Joseph S. Sinnott of Virginia as head doorkeeper. It also used the national committeemen and women to select forty-eight assistant secretaries, one from each state.

NEW YORK CLOSING

NEW YORK, June 21.—Although fluctuations were narrow in most cases and trading was in little volume, the drift of prices was again upward in the stock exchange today. New speculative commitments were held down, due to the uncertainty surrounding the Democratic convention. The dealings received stimulus from the more optimistic tone struck by the week-end mercantile reviews.

Railroad shares again assumed a position of importance, many of them attaining new high prices for the year, including Southern Railway, Missouri, Kansas & Texas and Western Pacific. The advance in the low-priced rails was again accompanied by all sorts of reports of consolidation.

Transactions in the industrial group were largely confined to various specialties and to oils. The latter reflected accumulation by important interests in anticipation of more profitable operations in the industry with the advent of warm weather. Houston Oil, the mystery stock of the group, was in active demand at rising prices, as well as shares of independent companies operating in the mid-continent field.

Schulte Stores continued its upward march on execution of a merger with the United Cigar Stores. Industrial Alcohol disclosed strength. Public utilities furthered their advance in the early dealings under the leadership of Montana Power and United Railway Investment, but subsequent profit-taking created a somewhat easier tone.

The list in general showed increasing firmness in the latter part of the session, closing steady.

Bonds were firm. Foreign exchanges ruled steady.

Stock sales today totaled 349,100 shares; bonds $6,807,000. Stock sales for the week 4,278,800 shares; bonds $94,135,000.

Rumors are current in New York that the Schulte Retail Stores corporation is about to take over the United Cigar Stores of America, a deal which several times has nearly materialized, but failed.

Supt. White Urges Pupils To Pursue High School Course of Study

TUJUNGA, June 21.—The last link connecting the present town of Tujunga and the early colony days will be removed if a resolution adpoted by the Parent-Teacher association is carried out by the county library authorities.

FLOOR PLAN NO. 1918

Home ownership elevates one in his own esteem and also in the eyes of his neighbor—it makes for better citizenship of both community and country. Certainly it is an evidence of thrift and prosperity. Our every effort should be toward attaining and maintaining our homes and home life. Everything we do to aid success can be rightly measured by just how much it promotes the happiness of our home life and that of mankind in general. The above plans are furnished and may be seen at the offices of the Bentley Lumber Co., 460 West Los Feliz road.

PLACE ORDER FOR LIGHTING SYSTEM

Electroliers for Bay City Civic Center Ordered From L. A. Concern

The Marbelite Corporation of America, who are sole manufacturers of Marbelite Centrifugally Cast Concrete Lighting Standards, and who have yards and factories covering four acres and representing an investment of $1,000,000 at 3248-60 Long Beach avenue, Los Angeles, were awarded the contract to install the 2400 electroliers in the civic center of San Francisco.

F. A. Clarke, local representative of the Marbelite Corporation, states that his company has every reason to be elated at the awarding of this contract.

"Naturally, artists and engineers of the Bay city were interested in the electroliers to be selected," said Mr. Clarke.

California Product

"They realize that in this grouping of buildings costing in the neighborhood of $25,000,000, and which have won world renown for their architecture and construction, they have something that very few cities in the world can boast of, consequently their care in selecting the most beautiful and practical lighting standard on the market. I can easily visualize this civic center with Marbelite electroliers, but I am happy also that a California company was awarded the contract over so many eastern competitors, which in itself means that California money will be spent for a California product and kept in California.

"Marbelite standards need no painting, which is a very big talking point. In The Glendale Evening News of Thursday we read that metal standards on Glendale avenue must have an initial painting which will cost $7 per standard. The question is, how long will this painting stand up, exposed to the elements, such as lighting standards are exposed to? Is it not reasonable to believe that these standards will have to be painted at least once a year in order for them to keep up a satisfactory appearance? Marbelite standards have the appearance of granite, have the symmetry and grace of Corinthian columns and improve with age.

Many Advantages

"Before accepting the local representation of Marbelite I visited many cities where they have been installed for years and did not find anyone that was opposed to them. Their initial cost is lower than the metal standard, do not show the dust and dirt of the street, have a free replacement guarantee which is filed with the city clerk and have great strength and durability.

"Many cities are considering the installation of Marbelite and it behooves property owners to interest themselves in what is to be installed on their frontage and I would consider myself favored if I were called upon to explain the wonderful merits of Marbelite."

Alberta Stoddard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Stoddard. She is a graduate of the Eagle Rock grammar school, of the Glendale Union high school, and will become a member of the faculty of the grade schools in Glendale next fall.

Mrs. Paul Meyers favored with violin solos and Mr. Luther Hoobyan and several others added to the interest of the evening.

URGES HELP FOR COMMUNITY SING

Hollywood Bowl Leader Tells Benefits of Music In Speech to Chorus

LA CRESCENTA, June 21.—"Residents of any community should make every effort to appreciate and help the leaders of their community sing," said Mrs. J. J. Carter of Hollywood Bowl fame, in her talk to the members of the Roscenta sing. "No other medium brings people together in close harmony as music does,"

Mrs. Carter invited the Roscenta chorus to join Hollywood Community chorus at their last meeting at the Hollywood Bowl next Tuesday night. Mrs. Carter also extended a cordial invitation to the local sing to join in the big community sing picnic to be held on June 28, at Castle Rock, Santa Monica.

Gift of Flowers

At the close of her speech Mrs. Carter was presented with a large bouquet of flowers by Mrs. A. F. Hopkins, president of the Community chorus.

Miss Marie Walsh gave some of her popular readings, the first being "Dara," by Tennyson.

Mrs. William Reed sang "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurance, and as her encore gave "Remembering," by the Duncan sisters. Mr. Reed, who is a concert violinist, played a Hungarian dance.

Miss Walsh won instant favor with her pianologues, "Yes'm," and her encore, "Protest." Little Miss Eileen Penter, pupil of Ernest Belcher, covered herself with honors in her clever dances. All of the entertainers received corsage bouquets of sweetpeas as tokens of appreciation from the Roscenta chorus.

Next Tuesday night's sing will be the last of the summer.

This new store is a unique place and is very attractively fitted up. Mr. Reynolds, the proprietor, intends to keep in stock at all times complete assortments of frames, picture mouldings and pictures of the more distinctive type.

Picture frame repairing and refinishing will be a feature of the business as will kodak developing and finishing.

Gives Information Only To Assist In Search

Mrs. Mary Boettler, 313 West Broadway, who was quoted in The Glendale News relative to the disappearance of Miss Anna Heiser, the young woman who, it has since learned, was in Los Angeles arranging for employment, wishes it understood that she did not believe the statements she made were to be published. Mrs. Boettler states that she was under the impression she was being questioned by an investigator seeking clews to the whereabouts of the reported missing young woman and she had no idea her statements were to receive publicity and that her name was to be used in a newspaper. She only gave the information in order to aid in the search for a young woman presumed to be missing.

Mining Men to Fish On Inspection Trip

SUNLAND, June 21.—Leonard McVine and R. B. Drake have left on a trip to the northern part of the state to inspect some mining property they own and, incidentally, do a little fishing. They claim that they have a private trout farm with an alfalfa pasture where they catch the trout with a grunion hound when the fish come out at night to feed.

McVine and Drake took a cake of ice along and if it doesn't melt crossing the Mojave desert they will bring back a sackful of trout for their friends.

Said friends are warned to not postpone any meals in anticipation of this feed, however.

Local Legionnaires On Trip to Catalina

A large number of local legionnaires left early this morning for Wilmington to embark on the Avalon for Catalina Island, where the third annual pilgrimage is under way today and tomorrow. All posts in Los Angeles county are sending delegations and a record crowd of over 3000 is expected.

The afternoon was to be spent touring the island and the big parade is scheduled to take place immediately after dinner. Stunts by the various posts and a huge dance will take up the time of the visitors until the wee small hours. Tomorrow morning the 40 and 8 will stage a Grand Promenade in which the "Wrecking Crew" under the direction of Grand Sampleur de Ligers Wilfred Regelin of Glendale, will administer final rites to a batch of Goofs that have applied for admission into the order.

Plumbers Will Hold Picnic at Pasadena

The plumbers of Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock have completed the plans for their annual picnic, to be held Friday, June 27, at Brookside park, Pasadena, and at least 300 merchant and journeymen plumbers and their families from these three cities will assemble at the corner of Harvard and Orange streets, Glendale, at 9 o'clock on that morning, preparatory to motoring to the picnic grounds.

A program of games and other sports has been prepared and valuable prizes have been hung up for the winners.

The plumbers will take basket lunches with them, but plenty of coffee and iced tea will be furnished for the guests. The plumbing shops of those participating in the picnic will be closed all that day.

MUSIC STUDENTS STAGE OPERETTA

Graduates Hear Judge Chase Tell Need of Larger School System

and the firefly dance on the semi-darkened stage was one of the prettiest parts of the operetta. Mary Nell Hall in the role of Hiawatha was especially pleasing. In the final scene the Indian youth has reached young manhood and is given a bow and arrow to hunt in the forest. The full chorus work in this scene was well directed and carried volume.

Following the operetta, the Wilson orchestra played two numbers, "Petite Suite" (Gluck) and "In Olden Days" (Senkins) under the direction of Miss Elsa Brenneman. After the class had marched to the front of the auditorium and taken its position on the stage, Frank Wykoff, class president, presented Miss Carrie M. Noble, principal, with a check for $200 to be used in completing the payments on the new curtains in the Wilson avenue auditorium.

Need for Expansion

Judge Chase made a short talk before the presentation of the diplomas commenting on the high standard maintained in the Glendale city school system and pointing out the needed expansion. He urged the graduates to be loyal citizens and obey the laws of the nation. The exercises closed with the singing of the class song.

Miss Mildred Hughey and Miss Ada Sallstrom as directors of the operetta were responsible for the finished style in which it was presented. The costuming was in charge of Miss Helen Buck and Miss Mary Circle. Miss Helen Gould was the accompanist.

LIBRARIES FORM MITCHELL'S TOPIC

Describes Noted Collections Of Books In Talk to Art Association

"The Dispensary of the Soul" was the inscription over the door of the first library, 3800 years B. C., Alexander Mitchell told Glendale Art association members meeting last night in the Public Library.

The meeting was in the nature of a library rally, for, in addition to Mr. Mitchell's talk on the history of libraries, Mrs. Alma J. Danford, librarian, told of the history of Glendale's library and of the need for enlargement to meet the needs of the city.

Notable Libraries

In his talk Mr. Mitchell stated that it was not until the seventeenth century that England had a library. Now the English library has 2,000,000 books. He said the oldest library in the world is in the Vatican in Rome and that the oldest one in the United States is at Harvard university. The Congressional library in Washington, D. C., has the largest building, covering three and one-half acres with eight acres of floor space. The Congressional library has the third largest collection of books in the world.

Mrs. Roy Ballagh, president of the association, announced that the next regular meeting has been postponed from July 5 to July 18.

She also announced that the John Hill Gilbert collection of pictures is still hung at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse and is open from 9 till 4 o'clock every day.

PRIZES AWARDED ON NEW MEMBERS

S. Riley Lyons Given First For Largest Number of Sciot Candidates

A large number were in attendance last night at an enthusiastic meeting of the local Pyramid No. 39 of Sciots, at which a large volume of detailed business was put through. An important feature of the meeting was the presentation of prizes to the members bringing in the largest number of candidates for initiation at the birthday ceremonial two weeks ago. S. Riley Lyons won the first prize.

Discussion of a Sciots' picnic for early in July resulted in the appointment of R. E. Johnston as chairman of a committee of eleven to arrange for the outing. The organization of a drill team to represent the Glendale pyramid was perfected and the officers named. A class of candidates was also taken into the order last night.

HOLD PICNIC AT BROOKSIDE PARK

Broadway Pupils and Parents Stage Annual Outing And Sport Program

Broadway parents and kiddies didn't care whether school kept or not yesterday afternoon. They turned out 300 strong for an annual picnic outing in Brookside park, Pasadena.

Meeting at the school at 2 o'clock they filled waiting automobiles and drove to the park. Recreational games and other features were enjoyed until dinner time.

Five large tables were spread for dinner. Everyone attending had contributed food for the dinner and the Parent-Teacher association served plenty of delicious fruit punch and coffee.

Special mention should be made of two of the Broadway fathers. C. W. Post of the Portola Fish company donated a can of sardines for all present and two dozen bottles of "Phez" loganberry juice, while Mr. Sebold sent a huge cake baked in his bakery on North Brand boulevard.

FALLING OFF IN BUILDING SHOWN

Many Cities Reveal Steady Advance; Others Drop In Total Figures

sure to pass the half-billion dollar mark, and some observers declare that 1924 will be a billion dollar building year in New York. These calculations are based on the report of $492,000,000 for five months, a gain of 33 per cent over the same period in 1923 and 72 per cent over 1922.

The twenty-five leading building cities reported gains of $29,000,000 or 16 per cent over May, 1923, and $44,000,000 or 26 per cent over May, 1922, thus showing that building operations in the larger cities of the country are still greatly in excess of any previous period.

Further softening in the prices of lumber and structural steel materials manifested itself during the month. In certain markets, notably New York and Boston, sand and gravel receded from the prices established during the previous month, but in Chicago there was an upward turn. Prices continued firm in other materials. Variations in starting material prices were relatively small, while the recessions in lumber and structural steel were more marked.

DELEGATES WILL CROWD PASADENA

State Convention to Bring Record Attendance to Southland City

fornia should have 1500 in attendance, and the Los Angeles Realty Board, with 550 broker members, will have to present an almost solid front to capture the attendance prize, which is based on miles, rather than the number of persons at the convetinon.

San Diego and the Imperial Valley realty boards will probably form a caravan from the south.

Fresno and the San Joaquin Valley towns are making special arrangements for the convention, and will make a strong showing, for Fresno is seeking the 1925 convention for that city.

Comes With Opera Troupe

CHARLES SWICKARD, noted baritone, will have a leading part in the presentation of "Il Trovatore," to be given under the auspices of the Glendale Lodge of Elks, June 21.

Verdi's grand opera, "Il Trovatore," is to be presented tonight in the auditorium of the Broadway High school by the National English Grand Opera company, for the benefit of the charity fund of the Glendale Elks lodge.

The presentation of the opera is most significant, for the director of the company is Harry Girard, Glendale resident and member of the Elks lodge. Furthermore, Agnes Cain Brown (Mrs. Girard) is to be seen in the leading role, that of Lenora.

Critics have given them nothing but the highest praise, so Glendale is anxiously anticipating their appearance here.

Gather Data Upon Methods of Paving

fied for years as a base for street paving, it only has been recently that engineers have "discovered" it as a street surfacing material. Its popularity is shown by the fact that in the first ten months of 1923 over 10,000,000 square yards of concrete streets were laid in the United States.

Engineers point out that one reason concrete is so popular on city streets is the ease with which a car is controlled on this paving. With never-ending streams of motor vehicles moving at twenty-five miles per hour, stopping to let cross-lines of traffic pass, and then starting on again, instant and certain control is essential for safety and to prevent congestion. Drivers everywhere are aware that cars hold better on some pavements than on others, and concrete is placed high on the list. The even, yet gritty, surface is responsible for sure control, wet or dry.

The low resistance of concrete to the passage of wheels, as discovered by the small boy with a bicycle year ago, holds true with modern city streets which have a concrete surface. City ordinances failed to keep the bicycle off the sidewalks because on concrete there was no hard pedalling, and the wheel seemed to run along of its own accord. This feature not only causes a low gasoline consumption, but there is less vibration or jolting.
